

"NAGGER," HE SAYS TO ACTION OF WIFE, WHO ASKS $12,500

Who's Who in Live Stock Figures in the J. P. McDonalds' Litigation.

The who's who of the live stock on the McDonald farm near Knoxville, Tenn., is under discussion again today in the suit of Mrs. Edith E. McDonald against James P. McDonald, railroad builder, before Supreme Court Justice Gargan and a jury. Mrs. McDonald already has a decree of separation from her husband, who says she "nagged" him. She is now suing for $12,500 she says he owes her. Recently she got judgment for $600 a month alimony.

Mrs. McDonald asserts that furniture owned by her and certain horses, cows, sheep, pigs, goats and chickens, with which the Tennessee farm, purchased by her husband some years ago, was appraised, belong to her and that they are worth the sum for which she sues. She says her husband has refused to turn over to her the stock, furniture or the money.

BUILT RAILROADS IN THE SEMI-TROPICS

McDonald, who built the New York, Westchester and Boston Railroad and who has had extensive railway contracts in Jamaica and Haiti, denies that the stock ever belonged to his wife. He says he owned the Walkill Land Company, which purchased the farm, in whose name the title stands.

Mrs. McDonald was the widow of George Delaney Evans when she married McDonald in 1903. She alleged that just before her marriage McDonald got her to loan him $1,000 in two instalments of $500 for which he assigned her the furniture in their home at No. 1 West Sixty-eighth street. Most of the furniture was shipped to the farm at Knoxville, where they later went to live. She says that she stocked the farm with her own money.

Mrs. McDonald testified that in 1910 a fire burned their house in Orange County, and she then came to New York and told her husband she wished to sell the livestock. McDonald agreed to give her $5,000 for it, she said, but later, when he was sailing for Europe, said he had loaned her the receipts for the stock had been destroyed in the fire and that he would pay her nothing. On his return he appeared to have changed his mind, and told her to sell the stock, as he did not want it. She went to the farm, she testified, but his agent refused to permit her to take anything away, saying he had been so instructed by McDonald.

McDonald took the stand and said he was still a railroad contractor. He said he and his wife had an apartment at No. 1 West Sixty-ninth street, and afterward moved to No. 1 West Sixty-eighth street. They had too much furniture and sold some of it when they moved. In reply to his counsel, James W. Osborne, McDonald said:

DIDN'T WANT TO BOTHER WITH SERVANTS.

"When we left the Sixty-eighth street house we packed up our furniture and sent it to Knoxville. My wife said she did not want to live in a flat and be bothered with servants."

"Did she give you $500 on two different occasions?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"She never gave me one cent," replied McDonald. "But I gave her $5,000, in one time, and opened an account at a bank for her with it."

"Why did you assign your furniture to her for a loan by her to you for $1,000?" "Because she was always nagging me. She was afraid my relatives would claim the furniture if I died in Ecuador, or Jamaica, or Haiti, or anywhere else I happened to be engaged in my contracting work. In order to satisfy her and save myself from continuous nagging I made over the furniture to her."

$198.25 Dining Room Suite, $147.00

This beautiful dining room suite exemplifies the last word in artistic furniture craftsmanship. Made of the best quartered Indiana white oak, fumed a rich nut brown shade. The decorations are made to represent inlaid marquetry—and by the newly discovered process the work is done so cleverly that it is next to impossible to detect it from genuine costly inlaid wood. Construction, finish and the lines throughout are characteristic of Grand Rapids furniture—and at the price quoted this is undoubtedly equal to the best value we have ever offered in high class dining room furniture. Descriptions of the different pieces in the suite follow:—

BUFFET—It is 54 inches long and 22 inches deep. Has a French plate glass, 44 inches long by 10 inches wide. One large and two small drawers in base, the smallest drawer being lined for silver. &c.; has raised panels in closet doors; nickel casters. Reg. Price $251.00, at $238.00.

CHINA CLOSET—It is 60 inches high and 37 inches wide; wood back. It has three shelves with double grooves so that the closet can be decorated in the most artistic manner; glass ends; has a double glass door, fitted with a good lock and key; nickel casters. Reg. Price $250.00, at $235.00.

CARVING TABLE—It is 38 inches long, 19 inches deep and 41 inches high; broad shelf in base; has copper handles; nickel casters. Reg. Price $235.00, at $217.50.

EXTENSION TABLE—It has a 45-inch round top; heavy pedestal base; shaped legs and feet; heavy box top; patent hardwood extensions; fitted with a high grade table lock. Reg. Price $27.00, at $27.00.

SIDE CHAIRS—They have heavy box seats and corner braces; three broad spindles in back; the base is thoroughly braced; has a slip seat covered in high grade genuine Spanish leather. Reg. Price $8.00, at $6.60.

Special Offer of the Famous "Crown" Vacuum Cleaner

at $15.00

Buy One on the Household Club Plan

Our usual price is $18.00. Many agents ask up to $25.00.

The "Crown" is easy working, moves about lightly and needs no electrical attachment because it works by hand. The "Crown" will keep your home spotlessly clean and healthful the year around. Does away with all dust distributors, such as brooms, dusters, etc. It will get into all possible nooks and corners and will clean them of all dust and germs. It is very strongly built, but of very simple construction and can be very easily cleaned—in about 5 seconds—on account of its perfect dust separator. The curved handle allows ease of operation and eliminates backache.

The Special Price is $15.00—Finished in green enamel, with high nickel-plated top, base, handles and nozzle. The outfit includes 12 feet of wire woven hose, one carpet nozzle and one upholstery nozzle. The best value in vacuum cleaners that we have ever announced. Remember, you can purchase one on our Club Plan of Easy Payments.
